Young Man and Girl Reported Engaged To Be Married Die of Gunshot Wounds.

NO WEAPON FOUND
NEAR DEATH SCENE

Pair Missing Since Saturday Killed Some Distance From Where Bodies Lay, Officers Say.

Macon, Ga., July 12.—(AP)—The bodies of Miss Hilda Smith, who resided at the Y. W. C. A., and E. W. Wilson, 22, were found beside a lonely road in a swamp near Swift creek late today. Both had been shot to death with a shotgun, although there was no gun found at the scene.

Sheriff's deputies and the police believe they were slain.

Wilson is a son of Joe Wilson, a farmer on the Milledgeville road, residing about halfway between Macon and Swift creek.

It was near Swift creek that Camp Wheeler was located during the world war, this being the railroad station for the camp.

Friends of Miss Smith and of Wilson state that neither had been seen since Saturday night. There has been no explanation as to how they happened to be at the scene where their bodies were found.

The officers found evidence which tended to show that the two persons were slain about 50 feet from the road, on the left side, going out, and that both bodies were placed in a car that had been rented by Wilson Saturday night, and transported some distance down the road and thrown into the swamp on the opposite side.

Earl Davis, of Swift creek, discovered the bodies.

The abandoned automobile was found at the roadside, where it had stood, unmolested since Saturday night, there being little travel over that road. Footprints from the automobile led to the swamp and there the bodies were found.

The bodies were brought to a local undertaker's place tonight and an inquest will be held tomorrow morning.

Meanwhile detectives and sheriff's deputies are continuing their investigation.

Wilson's brother, who identified the bodies, said that Miss Smith and Wilson were engaged to be married.

Wilson wore a white shirt and no coat. There was a big hole over his right eye.

Miss Smith, dressed in white, sustained a bad wound behind her left ear. Doctors said that the wound was large enough for a person's hand.

The young woman was identified tonight as Miss Hilda Smith, employed in the office of the Union Dry Goods company, a large department store here.

Sheriff's deputies are working on the theory that the same man who killed A. H. Byars, on the Swan road, in October, five years ago, also is responsible for the double murder uncovered tonight with the finding of the bodies of Miss Smith and Wilson.

Byars was found shot with a shotgun within 200 yards of where the two bodies were found tonight. He died in a hospital three days later and the officers working on the case never cleared up the mystery.

In With Byars' case the line of the shooting was a young woman who gave the alarm.

Army Planes Carry Wells and Evans Across Continent to Their Goal in New York.

SEEK TO FINISH
TRIP IN 28 DAYS

Travelers Will Be Given Royal Welcome on Arrival in New York Tuesday Midnight.

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 12.—(AP)—E. A. Evans and Lester Wells, who are completing a record-breaking dash around the world, arrived here by airplane at 8:30 tonight, six hours behind their schedule. They are due to arrive in New York, the starting and finishing point at 1:20 a. m. Wednesday.

Pasco, Wash., July 12.—I arrived here at 10:30 this morning in an army plane piloted by Lieutenant T. K. Mathews, and Evans arrived 25 minutes later another plane piloted by Lieutenant A. J. Koenig. We had bad weather over the mountains but came through without mishap. We are leaving immediately for Boise the next morning.

Pilot Joe Taft, of the Varney Northwest Air Mail system, will take us to the next jump at Boise, Pilot Leon Cuddihick, also of the Varney system, will take us aboard his plane, flying to Salt Lake City, which we expect to reach about 6 o'clock this evening, local time.

Major C. C. Mosley, another mail pilot, will be waiting for us there, and we will be on our way to North Platte, Neb., where Eddie Stinson, of the Stinson Air Craft company, will be waiting to take us into the heart of the desert.

It is impossible to forecast accurately the hour which we will reach New York, but we believe it will be before midnight, Tuesday night. At 1:30 a. m. eastern daylight-saving time we will have been gone 28 days from Pasco, Wash.

The Empress of Asia performed royally. At exactly 5 o'clock this morning she dropped anchor in the stream at the Canadian quarantine station west of Victoria. Five minutes later we had boarded a motor boat and 15 minutes later we were on a seaplane flying to Seattle.

Our fellow passengers lined the deck rails and the ships whistles helped us bid adieu as goodby. Our seaplane turned us over to the Seattle mail plane piloted by Edward Hubbard at 5:00 o'clock. Less than an hour later we were in Seattle.

There we learned of the unfortunate accident, the miscarriage of a telegram, which had prevented the bodies of Miss Smith and Wilson from being brought to a local undertaker's place tonight and an inquest will be held tomorrow morning.

We are, of course, far ahead of the plane from San Francisco which could relay to another plant at Wright field, Fairfield, Ohio.

In this crisis the army did everything that it could for us. It turned over two small planes, already in Seattle for the hard trip across the Cape Horn route, to us.

We are, of course, far ahead of the plane from San Francisco which could relay to another plant at Wright field, Fairfield, Ohio.

Mrs. Raymond Reinhart, of Charlotte, Slain as Father-in-Law Fires Upon His Wife.

CRAZED WITH GRIEF,
SON ATTACKS SLAYER

Slayer Is Struck on Head With Blackjack by Son in Room Where He Lies Near Death.

Wilmington, N. C., July 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Raymond Reinhart, of Charlotte, was fatally wounded at a beach cottage near here today by her father-in-law, J. C. Reinhart, who in turn probably was fatally shot by an officer as he was firing his revolver at his wife.

Reinhart was brought to a Wilmington hospital for treatment and shortly after his arrival his son, Raymond Reinhart, crazed with grief on account of the death of his wife, burst into the hospital room and struck his father over the head with a blackjack.

Young Reinhart then drew a pistol from his pocket and is alleged to have attempted to shoot his father. He was disarmed, however, by hospital attendants before any shots were fired.

The young man was placed in the county jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

The elder Reinhart was reported in a dying condition late tonight, suffering from three bullet wounds from the revolver of Policeman Pat Newton.

Couple Had Quarrel. The shooting started this afternoon after the elder Reinhart and his wife had been quarreling. The argument is said to have become so bitter that the younger Mrs. Reinhart went to the telephone to call the police.

Tour of Farms Along A. B. & A. Railroad Reveals Amazing Fine Condition of Crops.

COTTON IS ALMOST

$50,000,000 Gain in Georgia Crop Value for 1926 Is Indicated by Farm Conditions.

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

Douglas, Ga., July 12.—With a fair break in weather conditions and with reasonable prices prevailing in markets, Georgia this year should enjoy one of the most successful agricultural years in its history. In many parts of central Georgia and south Georgia the farmers are facing record breaking yields and for the first time in nearly a decade a general optimism is found throughout this whole section of the state.

Last year the state of Georgia's agricultural products amounted in round numbers to $30,000,000 in value. This year, judging from statements of experts who have traveled all over the state and from observation of the crops growing in the fields, the total value should be close to the $400,000,000 mark, which will be a new record for the state.

Story Is Amazing. In a tour completed during the week of the farm lands lying in the territory served by the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad an amazing story has been revealed. This section, which is the real heart of the agricultural part of south Georgia, is experiencing an agricultural regeneration which is nothing short of astonishing. Corn 15 feet high with seven and eight ears to the stalk. Cotton, almost unharmed by the boll weevil and, in this part of the state, untouched by the cotton flea. Tobacco nearly twice as good in quality as last year and certain to bring almost double the price received last year.

BOARD WILL HEAR
JUNIOR COLLEGE
PROPOSAL TODAY

Superintendent of Schools Sutton Points Out Advantages to City Plan Would Bring.

SEES CONGESTION
IN UNIVERSITIES

Says Creation of "Grade A" College as Part of City School System Would Relieve This.

Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta public schools, announced Monday that he will lay plans for establishment of a coneductional junior college in connection with the Atlanta school system before the regular meeting of the board of education "this afternoon. He said he had not intended bringing the matter to attention of the board until the August meeting, but that he has changed his mind on account of exclusive publication of his plans in Sunday's Constitution.

The tentative plan was announced in newspapers Sunday, and in the main was a correct statement of the program. "The present girls' high school would be abandoned and this institution, the old 'City stockade' building, and the Atlanta Normal Training school would be utilized as a new 'one for the proposed college. A new girls' high school would be constructed nearer the center of the girls' high school population, according to the plan as outlined Monday by Mr. Sutton.

"I have talked to Dr. R. M. E. Banks, president of the board of education, and he has agreed to the plan, but have not discussed the matter with any other members of the board," Mr. Sutton declared Monday.

"We do not wish to move the girls' high school from the third ward, without giving that ward something better, even though the center girls' high school population has shifted materially to the north side of the city."

"The proposed new girls' high school might be located in any ward, but it should be situated so as to give the best service to the greatest number of students. We plan to work this out. Last year about 900 students were graduated from Atlanta public schools, and more than 600 of these have announced their intention of attending some college. What an unselfish and wise move it would be for Atlanta to make accessible to grade A junior college in order that they could attend school two years right here and then spend two years in college courses, completing their college course in two years study away from home."

Would Relieve Congestion. "This, too, would relieve to a marked degree congestion in higher educational institutions of the state, and would mark a great development in the educational program of the south's great metropolis. It would insure a new era in education into this city and would place her in the forefront among other great cities of the nation."

"Under the tentative plan Fulton county would be asked to provide a fund of about $125,000 annually for the junior college, and county as well as city school students would be given the advantage of the school."

"Fulton county taxpayers now are being assessed one mill for county schools, and if the county would cooperate in sustaining the college, no added tax burden would be necessary. We feel sure that Fulton officials would approve the plan, even though they have not yet been approached."

Book Committee Report. A report of the book committee of the board, which is headed by Mrs. Julia O'Keefe Nelson, of the sixth ward, is expected to precipitate a battle, as it is expected that the committee will attack a history book now being used in the school system. Details of the report were withheld pending the meeting.

The school contact committee of the board of education is expected to make an informal report at the session of the board today, but nothing definite will be submitted. Dr. Eubanks stated, however, that the committee will be considered.

Tampa, Fla., July 12.—(AP)—J. M. Sloan, 35, of Chattanooga, Tenn., was found dead in a hotel here Saturday morning with a bullet wound through his head and a pistol lying on the bed beside him. Local officials declined to give out details. A note was left to the hotel by Sloan, saying he regretted he was unable to pay his hotel bill. He had been living at the hotel for some time and apparently was in the real estate business.

Robert Scott Pleads Guilty
Only To Hear He Is Innocent

WITNESSES DECLARE RUSSELL KILLED MAURER

Chicago, July 12.—(AP)—Three times today Robert B. Scott insisted upon placing his life in jeopardy and within an hour after acceptance of his decision to throw himself upon the mercy of the court, he heard testimony that his brother, Russell T. Scott, actually committed the murder to which he pleaded guilty.

Arraigned for the slaying of Joseph Maurer, 17, drug clerk killed April 2, 1924, when the Scotts robbed a downtown pharmacy, and for which Russell has been sentenced to death, Robert nodded his head when his attorney, William Scott Stewart, said "I plead guilty, your honor."

Desirous of leaving no loophole for further court delay, the prosecutors insisted that Judge William N. Gemmill explain to Scott the possible consequences of his plea, that the minimum sentence was 14 years' imprisonment and the maximum, death.

Judge Gemmill nevertheless e-pounded the law, and asked: "Do you persist in your plea?" "I do, your honor," replied Scott. "That places a heavy responsibility upon the court," said Judge Gemmill. "I shall desire to hear the evidence just as fully as though the plea had been otherwise and a jury called."

Floyd K. Pinckney testified that he entered the drug store with his wife to purchase candy and found Robert Scott guarding Joseph Maurer, who attacked Scott and they rolled upon the floor fighting for possession of a pistol, while Pinckney ran into the street.

Pinckney said he heard three shots fired, saw Robert Scott leap to his feet and dash into the street, and saw another man, carrying a pistol, emerge from the rear and follow Robert.

Maurer arose and seized Robert's pistol, said Pinckney, but fell dying with it in his hand. That pistol, testified Pinckney, was opened in his presence and had not been fired. Two men, Charles N. Edison, proprietor of the drug store, and John Douglas, a hotel bell-boy, testified that while Robert Scott forced Maurer to open the candy drawer, Russell Scott guarded them in the store basement, insisting upstairs when Robert and Maurer clashed, and Maurer shouted for help.

Edison and Douglas agreed that immediately after Russell ran upstairs three shots rang out.

Worn Out by Duties as Secretary of War, Statesman Dies at New England Home.

Lancaster, N. H., July 12.—(AP)—John M. Weeks lay tonight for the last time on his beloved White Mountain top overlooking the place of his birth with a lifetime of service to his city, state and country behind him. It was this unrelenting service which underlay the physical causes of his death early today.

Worn out by the duties as secretary of war to which he had given himself so wholeheartedly, Mr. Weeks had sought health and rest in such a place as the White Mountain resort. He turned once more to his native N. H. Hampshire. Here on Mount Prospect, his own possession, with his wife and son and daughter as companions, he fought his last battle with illness.

It was a losing battle. The former senator and war secretary sank into a coma on Sunday morning from which he never rose though his family awaited patiently and hopefully at his bedside for a final word. "Angina pectoris" his physician said. "Unrelenting public service," scores of prominent citizens declared.

Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock begins the journey from his birthplace to West Newton, Mass., which was his home in the years during his business career. There national and state officials, business and financial associates and a legion of friends will pay final tribute on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Detailed arrangements were not complete this evening, but relatives said it was probable that the services would be from the home of Sinclair Weeks, his son, unless a larger attendance made the use of the church edifice desirable.

The body will be placed in a temporary vault in West Newton, to be transferred later to the Arlington National cemetery in Washington. Burial will be arranged there in accordance with the wish often expressed by Mr. Weeks. It was not expected that the body would be taken to Washington until a monument was erected.

Washington, July 12.—(Special).—Two marines from Georgia were among those wounded in the arsenal explosion at Lake Denmark, N. J., according to reports to the navy department here today.

They are Private Carl L. Lindsay, of Dallas, Ga., son of Mrs. Ida Lindsay, and Private P. A. Donaldson, son of Mrs. Maggie Donaldson, Dudley, Ga.

Information received from Dallas Monday was to the effect that a message had been received by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lindsay from their son, Carl Lindsay, a marine stationed in the explosion district, in which he said he was not injured and was on duty.

Dover, N. J., July 12.—A sudden shifting of the wind from northeast to southwest at 5:30 o'clock this evening caused two more explosions at the Lake Denmark naval arsenal. Fire from the Picatinny arsenal, the army base adjoining, leaped over to the navy side and ignited a powder warehouse. This in turn, set fire to another storehouse 600 feet away.

The resulting explosions, at 5:47 and 6:01 o'clock, were two of the heaviest since the main blast Saturday night. They were plainly felt in Dover, 7 miles away.

Officials were fearful that the

Canning Beans By the Bushel

Now's the time—the season is abundant. We have arranged to help the truck farmers dispose of 5,000 bushels of beans today and tomorrow by closing time. If you fail to put up a lot of beans now while you can get them almost for nothing, you will have nobody but yourself to blame when you have to pay two or three times as much for them.

Three fine varieties—the popular pole bean, the stringless pod and the Red Valentine.

A Good Recipe FOR CANNING STRING BEANS

The following is a valued and tried recipe for canning string beans, furnished by Miss Lucy Wood, Fulton County Home Demonstration Agent. It is being used with success in all of her demonstrations.

"String and break beans into 1 to 1½-inch pieces, wash well. Blanch five minutes by tying in a cheesecloth and lowering into boiling water. Plunge into cold water for an instant. Drain and pack into jars. Cover with a brine (4 level teaspoons salt to 1 quart water).

"Screw top halfway down. Put jars into a covered vessel. Let water surround the jars up to within one or two inches of top. Cook one hour for three successive days, counting time after the surrounding water begins to boil. Screw top down tightly. Loosen before putting on each time."

President Again Invites Governor Smith to Camp

Paul Smith, N. Y., July 12.—(AP)—Governor Smith, of New York, has found it impossible to accept the invitation of President Coolidge to visit him at White Pine camp early this week, and as a result the invitation was renewed tonight for Friday.

The invitation was extended by Mr. Coolidge for the Governor and Mrs. Smith to have luncheon with him and Mrs. Coolidge any day up to and including Wednesday of this week, but although transmitted last Saturday was not received by the governor, who was out of Albany, until today. Hasty telephone calls resulted between the two executives during which it was said that engagements of long standing would make it difficult for the governor to accept on the days specified, and the outcome was a renewed invitation for the latter date.

One result is to make certain a later departure of the president for his boyhood home in Plymouth, Vt. The general view here, in the absence of a formal announcement, having been that he probably planned to leave Thursday. Departure on Saturday now appears the earliest moment Mr. Coolidge can leave for that visit which may keep him away from White Pine camp for five days.

Negotiations on the visit of the New York governor were carried on during a day devoted almost exclusively by Mr. Coolidge to fishing. Evidencing a keen enthusiasm for the sport which he had forsaken since boyhood, he went in the morning to Lake Okauchee, on the shore of which the summer white house is situated, and pulled out a fine six-pound pike, measuring 20 inches from tip to tip. Then in the afternoon he went 12 miles from the camp to the preserve of the late William Rockefeller, now owned by Colonel Benjamin B. McAlpin, of New York; John McDonald of Utica, and other and hauled out five brook trout averaging half a pound each in the course of three hours.

Both trips were made in canoes, with white caps running under the impetus of a wind which increased to a driving, gusty blow mixed with a fine rain in the afternoon, the president dressed in old clothes, with a cap pulled tight on his head. Kitchen First trying the waters of Lake Okauchee in the early morning from a motor boat without result, he returned to shore and entered a canoe in company with Oscar Otis, caretaker of White Pine camp and skilled fisherman. After he had been trolling less than an hour, the pike struck and in 10 minutes was pulled struggling into the canoe.

Mr. Coolidge showed his keen delight at the catch and, with the morning far spent, hurried ashore to attend to some matters of government business. But before going to his study he took the pike to the camp kitchen to have it dressed and cooked for lunch, while he remarked that he certainly liked fishing.

Waiting only long enough to finish lunch, he went with Oscar Otis and Ormon Doty, a well-known guide of this region, the 12 miles to Fondaby pond, undisturbed by heavy black clouds which rose rapidly and promised a squall, which soon struck with heavy force.

Returning to the camp, the president, with his guides and four secret service men, put out on the pond and, oblivious to all else, sought the trout. Before the day was over 14 had been caught, of which Mr. Coolidge brought in five, baiting his own hook with worms and removing the fish himself.

Returning to the camp for dinner, he and Mrs. Coolidge this evening had some of the white house officials as guests at the camp to see a motion picture, the portable projection apparatus from the presidential yacht, Mayflower, having been brought here for that purpose.

Those in charge of guarding the ruins of the largest naval and army arsenals in the east are also fearful that the enormous tonnage of black powder stored underground on the naval side might catch fire.

With the explosion of 14-inch shells in the latest expansion of the disaster now in its third day, the fate of the remaining buildings and high explosive storage houses is really in the hands of Providence.

Army men said the fire might burn itself out in another 24 hours, but, with Wilbur, they feared prolongation of tonight's sudden shift in the wind might bring bigger and more dangerous explosions.

Fifteen Still Missing. How many more bodies remain in the ruins no one can tell. General Hugh Drum, in charge of the army situation, thinks at least ten other bodies will be recovered. The list of missing was reduced today to fifteen.

In their entry into the flaming inferno the marines more than upheld their traditions. At 9 o'clock 200 of them were called together and told a rescue party was about to be started into the valley of death. An officer asked who would volunteer.

"I will," came from every man in the ranks as a single voice. Twenty, finally, were chosen by lot so that all would get a fair deal. Their names were kept secret by the marine commandant.

The zero hour for the first rescue attempt was set at 10:30 o'clock. Led by three officers, the marines crossed from the army side and climbed the hill on all fours and in well-ordered ranks. Back of them were eight stretcher bearers and two other marines to aid those who might be injured.

change in the wind would drive the flames into black powder compartments on the navy side. There are five of these magazines, each containing 40,000 pounds of black powder.

Forty battle-scarred marines, heroes of the Marine, earlier in the day, took chances with death, and after battling shell and flames for three hours, brought 17 bodies from the pit of destruction. This brings the total known dead to 19.

Two More Identified. Two of the dead were identified. Fifteen others were sent under guard to the Brooklyn navy yard for identification.

The two identified are Harry C. Brown, 7 Market street, Poughkeepsie, and Maurice R. Hardacker, of Gallop, Fla. Both were marines.

The rescue work was interrupted late in the afternoon when, with a shift of the wind another army warehouse loaded to capacity with 14-inch shells caught fire. In less than ten minutes army men declare more than 200 of the huge messengers of death had exploded.

At least 1,500 of these shells are in the section now ablaze.

Curtis D. Wilbur, secretary of the navy, accompanied by Admiral Plunkett, commander of the Brooklyn navy yard, visited the scene of disaster in the afternoon.

Shortly after he had crossed the army line into the naval area, the latest fire started. Explosion followed explosion. Shells screamed overhead or burst.

Lines Are Tightened. As soon as Secretary Wilbur departed, the lines about the camp were tightened. Crowds that tried to get into the area were driven back another mile.

To further guard the reservation, 200 more marines from Quantico, Va., were ordered to the scene by Secretary Wilbur, who feared the change in wind might cause the remaining TNT to explode and set fire to 12 store-houses on the army side. In this event, experts say, the damage to the surrounding country would be far worse than the explosion of Saturday night in the smaller naval warehouses.

While the entire personnel of the camp looked on, the army of mercy sent in officials and was lost to view in a cloud of smoke.

Nothing was heard from the rescue squad for two hours. Then word was flashed back to headquarters that 17 bodies had been found. Draped in American flags, they were brought back to camp and placed in a temporary morgue under a huge tent pending identification and removal to Brooklyn.

Dead Like Heroes. The story of the rescue may never be known in detail. Those who went over the top refused to talk, but a hint here and there indicated the marines who were killed died heroes.

All the bodies were recovered in the charred remains of building C-31, the TNT warehouse. In the center of Saturday night's inferno.

According to Secretary Wilbur the lightning that struck this building late on Saturday afternoon started a slight fire. Realizing the menace to the entire community, the 25 men inside forgot personal safety and fought the flames.

But fate was against them. The wind increased and fanned the blaze in 10 minutes the TNT warehouse was a roaring furnace. The explosion followed.

The bodies were either in the charred ruins or blown along the roadway leading to the structure. Four of them, it is believed, will never be identified, so badly were they burned.

Probably no greater bravery was recorded in the world war than that of today's rescue work in the newly created no-man's-land, according to marine officers. In many instances the marines crawled on hands and knees or prone on their stomachs over charred ruins of 23 buildings while shells rained about them. Several were slightly burned but none was bit by shell fragments.

On the army side men were counting the major explosions while the rescue work went on. More than 400 14 and 16-inch shells were thrown into the air and landed in the immediate vicinity of the searching party.

The first body was found 100 feet north of building C-31, indicating that others were nearby. The marines were re-formed and a cordon thrown around the building. Slowly the men closed in around the black pit and one by one the bodies were brought forth.

The early rescue party after bringing in the 17 bodies was given a rest and another party resumed the rescue work late in the afternoon.

TWO BOARDS TO PROBE ARSENAL EXPLOSION. Washington, July 12.—(AP)—Two investigating boards will be named by Secretary Wilbur to probe the mysterious phases of the Lake Denmark naval arsenal explosions. One will seek to ascertain the cause and the damage to government property, while the other will assess private property losses.

In advising the navy department of this action, the secretary in a message sent today from the zone of disaster, directed also that Rear Admiral E. A. Campbell, navy judge advocate general, confer with the attorney general relative to private property damages. Rear Admiral Claude C. Bloch, chief of the naval bureau of ordnance, announced that explosive experts would be sent into the area as soon as feasible to determine the cause of the disaster and gather information.

In an effort to expedite the identification of dead the navy department ordered J. H. Taylor, civilian finger print expert, who has just completed the task of identifying the 8-8's victims to proceed to Lake Denmark.

Edward E. Lockout, marine corps quartermaster sergeant, who also is an expert on finger prints, was dispatched by airplane to the scene of disaster with the identification records of marines on the Lake Denmark roster.

CONGRESS FLARE-UP SEEN OVER BLAST. BY THOMAS L. STOKES. Washington, July 12.—A flare-up is likely in congress over rebuilding the navy's ammunition depot at Lake Denmark, N. J., as a result of the terrific explosion which caused damage for miles around beside taking a heavy toll of life at the scene.

The contention of Senator Edge, of New Jersey, that such depots should not be established near thickly populated centers is expected to be taken up by others at the next session when congress will be called upon to appropriate money for reconstructing the giant government powder magazines.

The navy department, it appeared, will combat such a move, holding that an ammunition depot is necessary at that point for loading at New York, that the section is isolated from thickly populated areas, that only one fatality occurred outside of the area, and that the explosion was one of these accidents that will occur, despite every precaution. At a conference today, several navy department officials discussed restoration of the depot, almost completely wiped out, but decided to wait until an investigation before considering plans. The navy has no money beyond that necessary for expenses, and will have to wait until congress returns. There seemed to be no doubt that rebuilding would be urged upon congress.

Area Is Isolated. "The area is as much isolated as any we could find sufficiently near New York, accessible for loading ammunition on vessels," Rear Admiral L. E. Gregory, chief of the bureau of yards and docks which has jurisdiction of the depot, said.

He pointed out that the navy has a depot at Iona Island, in the Hudson, about 40 miles above New York, the same distance from the metropolis as the Lake Denmark depot. The depot at Iona Island, he said, is loaded to its capacity now.

Both he and Rear Admiral Claude C. Bloch, chief of the ordnance bureau, explained that the depot is away from densely inhabited areas, with Dover seven miles away, and the only other section near being the small mining town. It is a rocky, wild section.

These and other officials said that every precaution had been taken at the depot against an accident. Bloch explained that every building was inspected every day, and that the powder was tested every six months by chemists to ascertain if there were any danger of spontaneous combustion.

Ordinance experts at the navy department do not believe that spontaneous combustion was responsible, but are inclined to accept the theory that lightning struck the building, either setting off the explosion itself or hitting a wire and causing a short circuit.

Building No. 8, where the trouble started, as well as the others, are equipped with lightning rods, this precaution being taken despite the conclusion of the National Association of Powder Manufacturers that lightning rods had no efficiency. The explosion has raised again this question of lightning rods, which still surmount farm houses in many sections of the country.

Lightning Rods Valuable. The bureau of standards here, considered the last word in matters of this kind, says that lightning rods are very valuable if properly installed. They have the endorsement of the bureau which has prepared a special booklet on how to install them. The trouble is that most people do not install them properly, it was said. If the rods on Building No. 8 were properly installed and grounded, the building should not have been affected by lightning it was explained. This suggests the possibility that the explosion may have been due to a short

RED CROSS PLANS TO PROVIDE RELIEF.

Washington, July 12.—(AP)—Officers of the American Red Cross will meet here tomorrow to make an appropriation for relief work in the New Jersey explosion disaster area and will authorize local chapters of New Jersey, parts of New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware to accept contributions for relief work.

John L. Fleener, acting chairman of the Red Cross, was advised today by T. R. Buchanan, assistant director of disaster relief in charge of the organization's work at Lake Denmark, that the Red Cross was feeling 700 refugees, had furnished clothing and shelter to all who needed it, and had given medical aid to 85 persons.

Everyday Folks
and their Breakfasts

Out in all kinds of weather, he wants "good food that tastes good, too"—so it's Puffed Rice for him

HUSKY men have a soft spot for dainty foods and should have them.

That's why Puffed Rice is such a universal favorite. It proves "food that's good for you" can be wonderfully delicious, too.

It provides the important carbohydrate energy of fine rice—and has the rich flavor of toasted nuts. Tastes entirely different from any other cereal known.

Each grain is steam puffed to 8 times its natural size, then oven crisped to rare flavor. Children take to it like a confection.

It's a cereal dairy—plus fine, rich food. Costs a couple of cents a box more, maybe, than an ordinary "seven and six" dish; but that makes but little difference in a lifetime. The main thing is that the folks enjoy it.

Get Puffed Rice at any grocery store. You'll delight in finding the "something different" that you crave.

Dawes Prepares for Speeches Which May Put Him in Race As Presidential Candidate

Vice President Rests Before Undertaking Campaign; Expected To Increase His Popularity.

BY EARL J. JOHNSON.
Chicago, July 12.—Vice President Charles G. Dawes is resting at his North Shore home here for the campaign that may determine whether he is anybody could ask for. Dawes said is to be a presidential candidate in 1928.

If Dawes is successful with the speaking tour he is planning to complete before autumn he may roll up enough popularity among the farmers to be of value around convention time a year from next summer. He may gain further strength with a continuation of his verbal onslaught against the senate cloture regulation.
But for the present the vice president plans to spend considerable time smoking his underling pipe in the hammock at his Evanston estate.
"This is as good a summer resort as anybody could ask for," Dawes said after his arrival at Evanston. "I expect to stay right here for several weeks."

He said emphatically that his experiences as president of the senate had not changed his views regarding rules and that he would continue to carry to the people his campaign against cloture.
Regarding farm relief, wherein he has broken with President Coolidge, Dawes declined to be quoted, but let it be known that he intended to have a few words on this subject for the westerners in some of his summer speeches.

Dawes' first public appearance will be before the international convention of police chiefs here July 21. August 1 he will be the principal speaker at the celebration of the 50th anniversary of Colorado's statehood at Denver.

He said that he had a number of other tentative engagements in the west, but that these could not be announced until he was certain that he could fill them.
The vice president's arrival here caused a great stir than usual because of the presence at the station where his train came in of the black limousine bearing the official coat of arms. This is the car Dawes used in Washington. He had it shipped here for his vacation. The official crest on the door of an automobile has never been seen before in Chicago and attracts wide attention as it passes through the streets.

Dr. Newman will stay in Chicago with his son, Dr. H. H. Newman, scientist and author of numerous scientific books.

HAYS ABOLISHES BOOZE IN MOVIES

Los Angeles, July 12.—(P)—Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., made public today a statement outlining the organization's recently adopted policy that no film produced within its ranks shall in the slightest degree encourage disrespect for any law, especially the prohibition law. The policy was adopted during the annual meeting here some weeks ago of representatives of the association.

Hays' statement follows:
"Make certain that into no title there be allowed to enter any word, phrase, clause or sentence that directly or indirectly encourages the slightest disregard for law. There must be a tendency to make light of prohibition on the theory that it is a type of humor and might bring the laugh which sometimes follows, but any such treatment of the subject is, of course, a belittling of the statute itself and in the least purpose of the association to make certain that the screen shall never be used in a manner which promotes the slightest disrespect for law, whatever that law may be."
"Make certain that into no picture there be allowed to enter any shot of drinking scenes, manufacture or sale of liquor, or undue effects of liquor which are not a necessary part of the story of any essential element in the building up of the plot. That is, there should be no picturization of liquor, its manufacture, use or effect which can be construed as being brought in unnecessarily as a type of propaganda. It is one thing of course if the use of liquor in a picture is a natural element but quite another thing if it is brought in unnecessarily in any way which can be construed as being for an ulterior purpose or which in any way promotes disrespect for law."

"The motion picture has a definite duty, still more emphasized at the present not of allowing itself to be misused in any way, but further, it has the continuing duty of positive support of law, order and authority and the great opportunity which is in picture measures exactly their great responsibility."

JEWELER IS DEAD AFTER SMUGGLING CHARGE IS KNOWN

Nashville, Tenn., July 12.—(P)—Elias Miller, 60, jeweler, who was arrested by federal authorities last Thursday on a charge of having smuggled diamonds into this country from France, was discovered dead, and a glass containing a quantity of poison in a rear room of the M. I. Lusk jewelry company, Sunday afternoon.
He had been dead perhaps a few hours, as he had been seen to go in the store early Saturday afternoon—it is closed on Saturday afternoons—and so far as is known had not come out again. He had gone to the store from a local restaurant where he had left his coat and hat, indicating that he was in a disturbed mood.
One of the employees of the jewelry store had gone there shortly after noon Sunday and discovered the body.

Little is known of Miller's past. He came here alone from San Antonio, Texas, about eight months ago, secured a position at the jewelry company, and with the exception of a time when he took a mysterious trip away from here, had devoted many hours' silent work over his bench. He was considered expert at his trade and sometimes worked all night.
Following a rigorous investigation, federal agents arrested Miller last Thursday on a charge of smuggling 18 karats of unset diamonds into the United States, the charge being violation of section 503 of the tariff act of 1922. The complaint was sworn out by A. V. McLane, United States district attorney, following several weeks of detective work.

WEST POINT STUDENTS MAKE HIGH RECORDS

West Point, Ga., July 12.—(Special.)—That graduates of the West Point schools attending college made exceptional high records during the past year is the information contained in a letter sent to the editor of The West Point News by Professor Leon P. Smith, of Wesleyan college, Macon.

The letter, in part, says: "I want to congratulate the board of education of West Point, the superintendent of schools, W. P. Thomas, and his associates in the high school, and your city on the fact that the per cent of failures in college among the graduates of your school, as shown in the report of the Southern Association of Colleges for the school year 1925-26, is the lowest of any high schools on the southern list (the stronger schools of the state)."

"While there are several schools whose per cents ran as high as 35, the West Point High school has the remarkable record of six tenths of one per cent."

COURTS ARE RESTORED TO CHINESE CONTROL

Shanghai, July 12.—(P)—An unofficial but authoritative report says the consular governing body after conferences with Chinese officials has drafted an agreement virtually restoring completely the mixed courts in China to Chinese control.
The Chinese have been fighting for this ever since the revolution in 1912, when the republic was established and the courts were taken over by foreign consuls in cases involving their various nationals.
The mixed courts were established for hearing cases in which foreigners were the defendants.

PEACH GROWERS ADOPT MARKETING SYSTEM

Macon, Ga., July 12.—(P)—Georgia peach growers and distributors met here today to discuss plans for the regulation of the peach shipments to main markets of the United States, in the hope of getting better prices for the fruit shipped.

They worked out the plan of having a neutral agent, selected by the growers' association inspect the principal markets each day and report the total number of cars which may be shipped them, without glutting the market.

The growers pledged themselves to follow the number set out by the agent in their shipping. Not only will the number of cars shipped to the principal markets be regulated, but the number of cars shipped each day by the individual grower, will be regulated in proportion of the number of cars he is capable of shipping and total number to be shipped that day.
The shipments to be regulated are those to New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and St. Louis. The growers will hold weekly meetings to discuss problems which arise in the work.

BUILDING PERMITS MOUNT AT ALBANY

Albany, Ga., July 12.—(P)—Albany's building record for 1926 promises to surpass the record-breaking total of 1925, figures compiled by D. W. Brown, building inspector, showed. The total amount of building for the first six months of 1926 was $830,920, and for the same period in 1925 was $737,810, or a gain of $93,110, figures showed.
June set a record for the year, with permits amounting to $268,013. Other months' records were: January, $107,025; February, $328,275; March, $36,802; April, $98,050 and May, $32,665.

Tennessee Poet Dies

Nashville, Tenn., July 12.—(P)—Will T. Hale, 60, newspaper poet and Tennessee historian died here after a brief illness.

Radio Concert Stopped by Death In Chicago Hotel

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Chicago, July 12.—Radio listeners are wondering why station WOK did not respond to enthusiastic applause and encores after broadcasting dance music from the moonlight gardens at the Chicago Beach hotel and will regret to know that death stepped in and denied the request.
Lester J. Wolf, aged 19, one of the youngest licensed broadcasters in the country, was electrocuted in a hurry effort to respond to the thunderous encores. He had just completed the number when a great burst of applause which was too loud for the delicate equipment, and the wave of sound caused a fuse in the battery room to blow out.

Wolf ran to the fuse and leaning against an iron pipe started to install a new one, forgetting to disconnect the power. Sixty-five hundred volts of electricity shot through his body, throwing him to the floor. "I am not hurt," he gasped as he struggled to his feet, but immediately became unconscious and died in a few moments. Singers, violinists and others, waiting in the studio, were dismissed and broadcasting was not resumed. This is said to be the first fatality of its kind in the United States.
Mr. and Mrs. George Wolf, parents of the dead youth, are in Buffalo, N. Y., on vacation and efforts are being made to locate them.

DROP IN MERCURY AND LIGHT SHOWERS FORESEEN TODAY

Atlanta's temperature, which for the past several days has been more temperamental than an opera star, will change again today and cloudy, rainy weather is predicted. Blankets were dragged forth early Monday when the mercury sank to 64 degrees—one of the lowest registrations this summer. Monday was one of the coolest days within a month and the thermometer did not go above 85 degrees during the day. Slightly warmer weather is predicted for today, according to A. K. Scott, assistant meteorologist. Temperatures are expected to range from 78 to 86 degrees. The morning will be fair but cloudy weather is due in the afternoon with thundershowers, Mr. Scott said.

FUNERAL SERVICES TO BE HELD TODAY FOR MRS. TOPHAM

Funeral services for Mrs. Ethel Topham, well-known Atlanta woman and wife of John T. Topham, professor of mechanics at Georgia Tech, who died suddenly Saturday afternoon following a paralytic stroke, will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from the Holy Comforter Episcopal church. The Rev. Horace R. Chase will officiate. The body will be taken this afternoon to Richmond, Va., for interment. She is survived by her husband, John T. Topham; two daughters, Miss Jeanette and Miss Minnie Topham; one sister, Mrs. H. C. Roffe, of New York city; one brother, A. McDonald, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; one nephew, Oscar Oldknow, and a brother-in-law, William Oldknow.

SMITH RETIRES FROM REALTY FIRM

With the retirement of J. R. Smith, prominent Atlanta real estate board, from the firm of J. R. Smith and M. S. Rankin, the partnership has been dissolved and reorganized as the Rankin-Whitman Realty company, J. H. Whitman having bought out the interests of Mr. Smith, according to an announcement Monday. Smith and Rankin are well-known realtors and have just moved into the new quarters on Forsyth street. They have been associated for 15 years. According to the announcement, Mr. Smith, in retiring from the firm of Smith and Rankin, will devote his time and attention to private investments and personal affairs. He also will continue in the real estate field, Mr. Smith said. Mr. Whitman, who acquires Mr. Smith's interests and duties, is an experienced real estate man, was formerly connected with M. L. Throver in the sales department, where he specialized in planning and constructing homes. Construction work will be a principal part of his duties in the new Rankin-Whitman company, Mr. Rankin said. He added that the company will continue in all its branches of general real estate as it has in the past.

MISS HENDERSON, PUBLICITY CHIEF, TAKES NEW POST

After making a marvelous record in the advertising field in Atlanta in affiliation with the J. M. High company and leading Atlanta advertising agencies, Miss Beulah Henderson, prominent advertising writer, will MISS BEULAH HENDERSON, prominent Atlanta advertising writer, who will leave Atlanta to accept a post as advertising manager of the Myers company, large department store, of Greensboro, N. C.

After a short period as a stenographer, Miss Henderson was promoted to the position of manager of High's mail-order department. She served in this capacity for about ten years, until she became affiliated with the Calvin Stanford Advertising agency. While with this agency she handled many of the prominent retail accounts of Atlanta, including that of the Keely company. In January, 1925, Miss Henderson returned to High's as advertising manager, and handled the famous "Follow the Swallow" sale for that company. Miss Henderson is well known in civic and club circles.

Many close friends of Miss Henderson expressed regret Monday that she is leaving Atlanta, but predicted a highly successful career for her in her new position. A private showing of motion pictures showing Bobby Jones in action was conducted Monday night at the home of John E. Miller in Candler park. Approximately 30 invited guests were present, including many prominent Atlantans and friends of the world's greatest golfer.

ACTION POSTPONED ON OGLETHORPE CAR EXPRESS SERVICE

After hearing arguments of residents living on the Buckhead road, a line in favor of the operation of a non-stop express schedule on that line as far as the Brookwood station, the state highway commission Monday postponed action in the matter for two weeks. The postponement was granted so persons living on the line can have more time to study the question. The Georgia Railway and Power company was represented at the hearing by President Presto Arkwright and E. L. Butler, vice president of the company. Both Mr. Arkwright and Mr. Butler contended that operation of the proposed schedule is not practicable.

COURT FIGHT BEGINS OVER DEAN'S ESTATE

Hearing on a suit brought by Frank Deans, University of Michigan senior, against W. O. Deans and Charles Deans, executors of the estate of Robert E. Deans, wealthy Atlanta broker, to set aside the probate of Mr. Deans' will, began Monday morning before Judge Thomas H. Jefferies, ordinary of Fulton county. The hearing is expected to continue several days. Mr. Deans is alleged to have made two wills. The first he bequeathed to his entire estate to Miss Rhiela Lawrence, beauty contest winner, who accompanied him as his nurse to a Minnesota hospital several months prior to his death. A second will was made by Mr. Deans before his death in which he bequeathed his estate to his heirs and left Miss Lawrence a house and lot on Peachtree road.

The first will was never offered for probate and the second made no mention of Frank Deans, who claims to be the son and only legal heir to the estate. Immediately after the second will had been filed for probate young Deans brought suit to set aside the probate of the ordinary's court.

At the hearing Monday, Mrs. Frances B. Leuchenburg, of Detroit, testified practically the entire morning and related in detail her married life with Robert E. Deans, declaring that Frank was born in Augusta, Ga., in 1906. Dr. W. A. Mulheran, of Augusta, testified that he attended Mrs. Leuchenburg at the time of the birth of her son and that there then was no question about the marital status of Mr. and Mrs. Deans. Attorneys Horace Russell, Robert Alston and E. A. Stephens are representing Mr. Deans while Attorneys Reuben and Lowry Arnold and Clarence Calhoun are counsel for the defending relatives.

WAR ON PENSION AGENTS PLANNED BEFORE VETERANS

Efforts to eliminate pension agents will be made at the next national encampment of Spanish-American War Veterans in Des Moines, Iowa, in August, according to Sam C. Crane, member of the legislative committee from the Fitzhugh Lee encampment. Resolutions will be introduced to curb the activity of "unscrupulous agents," he declared.

Several millions of dollars will be distributed throughout the country to veterans, widows and orphans, under the new act passed by the last congress, and unscrupulous agents may defraud many, he said, unless action is taken at the next convention. The pension bill provides a cut in the agent's fee from $20 to $10, and pension agents throughout the country are organizing to defeat this measure before the pension committee. Mr. Crane stated. An effort also will be made to prohibit a member of the veterans' organization who may be a pension agent from standing for reelection and to keep all camps clean from manipulations of such agents, he said.

Quaker Oats
"stands by" you through the morning
Has the "bulk," too, that makes laxatives seldom needed

BRITISH OFFICIALS TO MEET ANDREWS

London, July 12.—(P)—British officials have made full preparations for the visit of General Linton Wells, chief of the prohibition enforcement movement of the United States, who will arrive here tomorrow. The conferences will be for the purpose of obtaining the complete cooperation of the British government in discouraging trans-Atlantic bootlegging as well as running between the United States, the Bahamas and Canada.

Assistants in the American embassy will introduce the prohibition chief to the foreign office which will put him into direct touch with officials of the board of trade, the customs and admiralty. After one general conference, which will be made at the foreign office, General Andrews and his aides will be free to confer with any or all of the Whitehall officials who are likely to be of any assistance in helping to keep bootleg liquor out of the United States.

It is emphasized here that no new liquor treaty is expected as an outcome of General Andrews' visit. The American enforcement officials are understood to desire to work out in greater detail than at present the arrangements now in force for decreasing liquor smuggling. The Americans also desire to perfect a system of exchanging information which will keep the prohibition officials in close touch with running cargoes leaving British shores to the United States. The British government has indicated willingness to cooperate with the American enforcement authorities in the following three ways:

- (1.) United States officers will be permitted to enter British territorial waters in the Bahamas.
- (2.) Transfers to the British flag of vessels intended for the smuggling trade will be prevented.
- (3.) Ship masters will be prosecuted for making false declarations regarding their destination.

SOUTH GEORGIA SEES BIG YEAR

revealing some of the facts about the growth of diversified farming in Georgia and pointing out specific instances of the success Georgia farmers are enjoying in experiments in diversified farming.

Although Georgia is considered one of the leading states in the union in diversified farming, the greatest realization of the extent of this diversification. Only a trip through the heart of the vast agricultural empire will reveal the story to the average man. Last year the state produced 1,190,000 bales of cotton with a value of $100,250,000 and 41,670,000 bushels of corn with a value of $41,076,000 in round figures. These are the two staple crops but in this section of Georgia few of the farmers are depending absolutely on these two crops.

In the particular section traversed by the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad the greatest development of recent years in agriculture has been in the production of tobacco. This railroad, following a policy adopted by Colonel R. L. Bugz, former president and now receiver of that line, has encouraged tobacco culture in 64 south Georgia counties. As a result of this extension work and through the encouragement of this railroad and other agricultural agencies Georgia last year produced 48,030,000 pounds of tobacco with a total value of $7,206,000. This year, because of the improved quality of the tobacco and because of increased acreage the crop is expected to net a total of $11,000,000 or $12,000,000.

Officials of the railroad who made a tour of the whole tobacco section during the week, were amazed at the prospect for a bumper tobacco crop this year. The tobacco is being shipped by freight cars and the railroad traffic manager of the line, and two of his ablest coworkers, John Wesson and Captain J. H. Hill, visited the tobacco fields in the section and report the crops this year to be the best grown in south Georgia since the tobacco industry first was established.

Fine Tobacco Crops

Beginning at Fitzgerald, going south to Tifton, Moultrie and Thomasville and swinging eastward across the state to Douglas, Waycross, Alma, Nichols and other tobacco sections, they found everywhere that the quality of the leaf this year is better than that of any tobacco grown in Georgia and hence certain to bring much better prices in the markets in August than was received for the crop last year.

"In my opinion the total price received for the tobacco this year in Georgia will amount almost to double the total amount received last year," Mr. Wesson said after visiting the entire tobacco section. "The quality is far better, the yield is larger and with the proper marketing this year is almost certain to be the greatest tobacco crop ever grown in Georgia."

While tobacco culture is being pushed to the utmost by the officials of this railroad they are not losing any opportunity to bring about the utilization of the fine lands in this section for other crops.

One example of a "side line" is found at Ambrose, a small station on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic line where the Seaboard farms have a crop of 800 acres of tomatoes. These farms cover a distance of several miles and a total of 120 car loads of tomatoes has been shipped to the markets this year. A force of more than 100 people is employed at Ambrose in the work of packing and shipping the tomatoes.

The company grows its tomato plants under glass, sets them out on the farm and produces them on a large scale just as the average truck farmer would do. This farm is said to be the largest tomato farm in the United States and it has been in operation less than two years. The company also raises huge amounts of pepper plants and other vegetables. Immediately after the tomatoes are gathered the company grows the land in hay and other soil building crops.

A prize corn field is located on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic line at Tifton. It is owned by Henry F. Gibbs and all over the farm the corn is at least 10 feet high with seven and eight ears to the stalk. Mr. Gibbs also is producing a large amount of tobacco this year and has some plants which are the finest examples of this culture.

The tobacco belt of Georgia extends roughly from Waycross on the north-east to Albany in the northwest and from Thomasville and Bainbridge on the southwest to Baxley in the east. Nearly all the farmers who are growing tobacco also are producing their normal amount of cotton and corn and in some respects the tobacco crop this year will be almost pure "net."

Peanut Yield Grows

After many years of experimenting the farmers in this particular section of Georgia now are enjoying successful yields in peanuts and this crop this year is one of the most promising they have ever grown. In recent years the peanut has been used with marked success as a food for hogs and the farmers are growing this crop, both for the open market and for feeding hogs.

Packing houses at Moultrie, Atlanta and other cities provide a market for the sale of the hogs, while many big industries using peanuts for confectionery are now represented in the Georgia markets. The peanut crop last year amounted to 132,050,000 with a value of $4,490,000 and this year the total crop should run close to the $6,000,000 mark in value.

In subsequent articles the prospects for development of the sugar cane industry, the pecan industry, peaches, apples, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, hay, rice, oats and other crops and poultry and stock raising as carried out in the south Georgia section will be discussed.

ments had been made for a military funeral. Flags were flown at half-staff in the town of his birth today and officials of the American Legion post were discussing plans for a more elaborate tribute to be paid later. Although anticipated, the passing of Lancaster's notable son was keenly felt throughout the community where he spent his younger years.

The Rotary club, comprising many of the leading business men of the town, conducted a memorial service at its regular noon session today.

At West Newton, flags on all municipal buildings were flown at half-staff and Mr. Weeks' death was made the subject of the special message issued by Mayor Childs.

"The death of John W. Weeks," said the mayor, "is keenly felt in the community of Newton, where for many years he made his home. He started his political life as an alderman, was later elected mayor, and served in that capacity during 1902 and 1903. With all the outside interests which claimed his attention after entering national political life, he never forgot his home city, his church or his old friends. He continued to the end an interested supporter of community activities, a sort of silent partner in every cause that affected the welfare of the city and her people."

Rockefeller Foundation Pries Into Detroit's Vice After 'Failure of Police'

Conditions in Michigan
Automobile City Are Described as Worse Than in Others.

Detroit, Mich., July 12.—Blame for Detroit's vice conditions, described as worse than any in any other city in the country, is placed at the door of a complaisant police department and an indifferent prosecutor's office by the Rockefeller foundation report.

The report is an indictment of laxness on the part of law enforcing agencies as well as a searchlight which flashed into the remotest corners of the city's bad lands.

"It may be interesting to note," the report says, "that more violations were discovered in one month in Detroit by three investigators than the same men have been able to uncover in the city of New York in the last six years."

Several Surveys Planned.
The survey, financed by the Rockefeller foundation, is one of several that has or will be made in metropolitan cities throughout the country.

Since the report was made but not published a group of prominent Detroiters, called the "Committee of 300," including the mayor, have met and pledged themselves to make a campaign against conditions.

"The rapid growth of Detroit and the failure of its police department to enforce laws against prostitution," the report says, "have attracted prostitutes and their male agents from all over the country. These underworld characters have accepted Detroit as a sort of haven, where they can operate openly without fear of the authorities."

"One of the unusual features about Detroit's vice problem is that within a mile radius of Cadillac square, an area which embraces one of the main business sections of the city, prostitution flagrantly flourishes. House after house in this section harbors prostitutes."

The report then describes the familiar members of the underworld sisterhood, who tour the downtown boulevards in limousines beckoning customers.

"Night after night street-walkers are to be seen openly accosting men in these neighborhoods," the report adds. A uniformed officer is seldom in evidence. The few times when a uniformed officer was seen he was in conference with a group of two or three women in front of one of the biggest downtown hotels. Several instances are cited in which women solicited men while talking to policemen."

Outlines Police System.
In this connection the report outlines the operation of the police tip-off systems and says:

"The student police are, according to informants, in most cases above reproach. These young men are eager to secure a permanent position on the force and therefore are afraid to receive money from the prostitutes. Their superior officers are, however, in a position to give out advance information concerning raids and at the same time divert the activities of the student police. It is to the leaders of the squad that these women contend that they pay their money for protection."

Exorbitant rents are paid by this vicious element for apartments and flats, the report alleges. Landlords and lessees, it is charged, indirectly share the women's earnings.

The ease with which women or liquor may be obtained is mentioned in a paragraph which states, "Any person may approach a cab driver or bell boy and without hesitancy the go-between will direct him to a house of ill-fame with a note of introduction."

Practices prevailing in certain night clubs are censured in the report. Suggestive dances are given, the report says, and liquors served with no effort at secrecy even when uniformed police are present.

"Poison" Victim Cured
As Doctors Extract
"Kick" of Home-Brew

If you want to get through the crowded streets in a hurry, "drink home brew."

This was the experience Monday night of H. E. Bearden, 46, of 12 Oxford avenue, who found himself in the Grady hospital 15 minutes after he had emptied the contents of two bottles of home brew.

Bearden, it is claimed, fell at Marietta and Guyton streets and, according to telephone calls for the ambulance, was "dying." The Grady ambulance being out, the call was passed to Avtry & Lowndes with instructions to make it with all haste.

Upon his arrival at the hospital, as doctors prepared to "wash his stomach," Bearden protested, declaring he mistook a "kick" for poison. However, the pump was brought into play and in five minutes the "kick" was out of his system.

WAGE PARLEY CALLED TO HALT CITY STRIKE

Wage adjustment for about 40 helpers on garbage trucks is expected to be made by the finance committee of city council at a special call meeting at 10 o'clock this morning in order to prevent paralysis of the entire scavenger moving department.

This became known after nine of the negroes employed as helpers left their posts Monday and 20 others served notice on sanitary department chiefs that they would strike unless steps for immediate adjustment of a demand for a 25 cents a day increase were taken.

Chief John J. Jentzen, of the sanitary department, stated the strike was not unexpected as dissatisfaction with prevailing scale of wages has been manifested for some time. Men employed on the work now are receiving from $1.50 to $2.25 daily.

Alderman W. Guy Dobbs, member of the sanitary committee of the city council, announced that the sanitary service would not be jeopardized by the walkout, declaring that efforts will be pressed into service to fill the vacancies if necessary. He expressed confidence that a settlement of the differences will be made at the call meeting of the finance committee today.

The committee has been called to meet by Mayor Walter A. Sims.

"El" Strike Looms As Chicago Chiefs Deny Higher Wage

Chicago, July 12.—(AP)—Possibility of a strike of Chicago elevated employees loomed today when the demands of 4,500 employees for a 10-cent an hour wage increase were rejected by the Chicago Rapid Transit company and the men were asked to accept a reduction of 5 cents an hour.

The counter proposal also included a number of changes in working conditions that would result in a loss to the workers and a saving to the company. An emphatic declaration that the members of his organization would not consider a wage reduction was made by John J. Bruce, president of division 308 of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America.

Following a suggestion that the controversy, including the suggested wage cut as well as the wage increase, be settled by arbitration, the employees' committee demurred, stating that if they agreed to arbitration, it would have to be arbitration upward only.

Along with the elevated employees there are about 15,000 surface line employees involved.

BLUE RIBBON HOG GIVEN CITY FARM BY GEO. M. BROWN

The Atlanta dairy farm will breed a superior type of hog in the future, it was announced Monday by Councilman Charles Chosewood, of the third ward, chairman of the streets committee of city council, under whose direction the farm is operated.

This announcement followed presentation of a young Duroc-Jersey hog by the farm to George M. Brown, a blue ribbon prize winner and is valued at more than $200. Mr. Brown refused $10,000 for the sire of the hog he gave the farm, Mr. Chosewood stated.

Mr. Chosewood will present a resolution in council at its next meeting asking that body to take official cognizance of Mr. Brown's gift and seeking a vote of thanks for the donor.

ENGLISH SEASIDE RESORTS TO EXHIBIT FILMS OF CABINET

London, July 12.—Films of British cabinet members are to be sent to English seaside resorts, where the pictures of Premier Baldwin, Foreign Secretary Chamberlain and others will be offered as program features along with the acts of blackface comedians.

Putting government members in the movies is said to have as its object the increasing of their popularity with the people. Several months ago, when cabinet members posed inside and outside their offices for the movies, it was impossible to learn why the films were being made. It has now been discovered that conservative organizations furnished the funds for the project.

MURDER MYSTERY BAFFLES POLICE; ARRESTS EXPECTED

Knoxville, Tenn., July 12.—(AP)—Mystery today still shrouds the murder of Mrs. Sarah Mason, 67, who was shot to death by a midnight raider in Maryville early Friday morning. Officers are investigating every clue and said an arrest within a few hours "is probable."

Ellis Harris, 32, of Monroe county, was released of any connection with the crime. Interest in the case is increased by the fact that numerous similar crimes have been committed in Knox and Blount counties, during a period of several years.

ROOSEVELT BIRTHDAY TO BE HONORED HERE

The memory of Theodore Roosevelt will be fittingly honored here October 27 and 28 when approximately 400 delegates to the Southern States Republican league will gather in the second annual convention. Leading republican and democratic leaders from all sections of the country will attend the dinner party, which will commemorate the birthday of America's most popular republican, and several addresses will be made, according to announcement issued Monday by Charles E. Cotterill, Atlanta attorney, who is general chairman of the committee on arrangements.

The list of speakers will be released later by Miss Frances E. Youngblood, of Ensey, Ala., chairman of the publicity committee. Charles U. Gordon is president of the league; Robert E. Noble, of Anniston, Ala., chairman of the speakers' committee, and associated with him is Henry T. Debardeleben, of Birmingham, Charles Adamson, of Cedarstown, is chairman of the entertainment committee and Fred Noble, of Rome, president of the Georgia state council of the league.

The purpose of the organization is to enlist the interest and support of white southerners in republican principles and to ultimately bring to the south "the advantages of a two party system under exclusive white direction."

DAYLIGHT BURGLAR GETS $6,000 IN GEMS

Diamonds and other jewelry valued at more than $6,000 were stolen from the home of Mrs. B. F. Ulmer, at 67 East Fourteenth street, shortly after 12 o'clock, according to police records, in one of the most daring daylight robberies ever staged in an Atlanta home.

The robber entered the Ulmer home posing as an inspector from the Georgia Railway and Power company, to inspect the electrical wiring in the home and when his actions aroused the suspicions of Mrs. Ulmer he was followed. Instead of looking for the wiring, the daylight robber entered a second floor bedroom and immediately started off with a number of valuable diamonds which were lying on a dresser.

Mrs. Ulmer called to her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Ashbury, and the two grappled with the youth for several minutes before he eluded their grasp and fled in an automobile waiting near by.

The robber was chased some distance by Mrs. Ulmer in her own automobile but escaped in the thick of traffic on Peachtree street. Police and detectives were immediately notified and a search is being made for the burglar.

Wu Pei-Fu Forces Meet Resistance NearPekin,China

Pekin, July 12.—(AP)—Efforts of the forces of Marshal Wu Pei-Fu and Marshal Chang Tso-Lin to eliminate the national army troops of the government they deposed last April are meeting with stout resistance. Despite daily reports of victories of the allied troops since they launched their attack upon Nankow Pass, more than a week ago, apparently they have accomplished nothing. Beyond Nankow Pass the national army is based at Kalgan, close to the Gobi desert.

Canon fire can be heard in Pekin from Hwaii, key to Nankow Pass, which troops of General Tien Wei-Chin, Lieutenant of General Wu Pei-Fu, are bombarding.

There is a singular lack of wounded or prisoners reaching here from the scene of fighting at Nankow.

Qualifying Rounds Start Wednesday At Brookhaven Club

Cream of State's Linkmen Gathering For Sixth Annual Tournament—Many Handsome Trophies Are Offered To Winners.

BY ROY E. WHITE.
With only one day more in which to practice before the qualifying round of the sixth annual Georgia state golf tournament will be played Wednesday on the Brookhaven course, more than 75 golfers, representing the best of the state, and from practically every golf club in Georgia, are ready to shoot the last practice rounds today.

Many of the state's most noted golfers arrived in Atlanta Sunday in order to participate in the mammoth well-known celebration in honor of Bobby Jones, later practicing over the Brookhaven course, getting an unusually large number already on hand and others on their way to the city, indicating point to the largest entry list ever recorded for a Georgia state championship battle.

Many of the early arrivals trod over the Brookhaven course Monday, in practice rounds, getting an unusually large number already on hand and others on their way to the city, indicating point to the largest entry list ever recorded for a Georgia state championship battle.

Gene Cook, popular young Atlanta golfer, and a member of the East Lake club, defending his Georgia state title, which was won last year, put in a round late Sunday and Monday afternoon and will probably play another 35 holes today.

Watts Gunn, runner-up to Gene Cook last year, and a member of the United States Walker cup team, arrived from Columbus, Ohio, Sunday on the "Bobby Jones special." It is not known at present whether or not Watts will enter the tournament, as he has been over-gored during the past month.

An elaborate collection of handsome trophies is on exhibit at Maier & Berkeley, Inc., on Whitehall street, waiting to be awarded winners of the various flights of the tourney. The handsome Bourne trophy, which will become the permanent property of the team winning it three times, is among those in the show. Both East Lake and Druid Hills Golf clubs each have two legs on the cup and a merry battle will be waged by members of those two clubs during the coming tourney.

R. H. Martin, well-known Atlanta sportsman, has donated a trophy to become the permanent property of the Georgia state golf champion and it will be awarded for the first time Saturday night to the winner. Several other trophies of lesser value will be given to winners of runners-up in the various flights.

Members of the Capital City club and Howard Beckett, professional at the Brookhaven course, are leaving no stone unturned in making this the

NUMBER 13 LUCKY FOR BOB JESS IN TOURNNEY

New York, July 12.—(AP)—Golf-don'ts mental hazards, which frequently present more trying problems than the actual bunkers and sand pits of the fairways, have been conquered by Bobby Jones and Jess Sweetser at the expense of superstitious belief in No. 13 as unlucky.

WHAT THE EXPERTS SAID ABOUT BOBBY'S TRIUMPH

Following are excerpts from some of the articles prepared by nationally-known golf experts in describing Bobby Jones' victory in the American open golf championship tournament at Columbus, which show, to a certain degree, the place the Atlanta holds in the golfing firmament.

"Bobby Jones," wrote Keer-N. Petrie in The New York Herald-Tribune, "the Caesar of the links, has been crowned again. Today the greatest amateur and probably the greatest player the venerable game has ever known added further lustre to his name by winning the American open championship."

"Never was victory more popular. . . . He is now wrought steel and there no longer is a streak or flaw in his composition. It had been a terrible grind and he had accomplished his task, not so much like a workman as like an artist. He had driven another spike in the big guns of the professional ranks."

"As a result of his great victory," William D. Richardson said in The New York Times, "Bobby is again the golf monarch of the greater part of the world. He has been called the world's greatest golfer by experts here, but still he remains just Bobby Jones."

"Four strokes behind," Peter Vischer wrote in The New York World, "with only seven holes to go, he fought his way to the front like the man he is, the greatest golfer the world has ever seen."

"Thus young Bobby added one more precious jewel to the glistening crowns that are already his. No man ever played such golf. No man ever made such a record. No man in all sporting history ever held the American open and amateur and the British open championships that are now all Bobby Jones' at the same time."

"The great crowd cheered Bobby, the loved amateur. When he brought in his score the crowd called it as the winning figure. No one seemed to question that this open championship cup upon which his name already appears, rightfully belongs to Bobby Jones. If the crowd had its way, Bobby Jones could keep the cup."

Crackers To Resume Play With Memphis Today After Rest

Cavet, Francis and Morton are Likely Hurlers for Today's Game—Atlantans Enjoy Monday Resting—Evened Count Sunday.

Memphis, Tenn., July 12.—(Special).—Refreshed from a one-day rest, spent in counting ripples on the Mississippi, to say nothing of playing off the finals in various pinocchio tournaments, Atlanta Crackers and Memphis Chickies play up the white man's burden here Tuesday afternoon for the third game of their series.

The set, to date, is as even as 50-50, which is pretty even in any language. The Crackers made the Crackers jump through the hoops Saturday and scared them off the reservation, 3 to 1.

Take your choice for the third encounter. Both teams are in great shape, thank you. The brace of games so far completed were done so with the use of a small number of pitchers, which is something else again in these days of lusty swatting and only so-so hurling.

Should Be Ready.
The clubs should be ready for some mighty fine baseball and a large number of cash customers are expected to witness the resumption of activities.

Let's see now.
Manager Bert Niehoff has used up McLaughlin and Tom Rogers. He sent Ruel Love in there, too, Saturday, after the Crackers discovered that most of Mr. McLaughlin's pitches curved as much as the shortest distance between two given points. But Mr. Love goes in for the Crackers nearly every day, any way, so he stands prepared for the worst.

'Robin Hood' Attracts Society For First Presentation

De Koven's entrancing opera, "Robin Hood," presented at the Atlanta theater Monday evening, ushered in the fourth successful week of the Municipal Light Opera company and marked the premiere of one of the most popular light operas.

The exquisite voices of Mary Leila Patterson, Ann Vago, Vera Myers, Arthur Buckley, Louis Templeton, William McLeod and Jeff D'Angelo were heard in the principal roles of "Robin Hood," while the ballet and chorus composed of Atlanta talent sang several beautiful numbers before a background of colorful settings.

WRECKS CONDEMN. KAISER-STINNES MOTOR SPEEDWAY

Berlin, July 12.—(AP)—Because of yesterday's accidents during the international competition of the German Automobile club, the speedway has been condemned for further racing. The speedway was originally laid out by the Kaiser as a private road from Berlin to Potsdam and was completed after the war by the late Hugo Stinnes, industrial magnate.

Yesterday's accidents were due to skidding on the rain-soaked surface. A car driven by the German, Rosenberg, smashed a time post and plunged into the grandstand, killing one time-keeper and injuring another so badly that he died today. Rosenberg's mechanic and three spectators also were hurt.

Three other cars left the track at different points. Then persons, including drivers, mechanics and spectators, are in the hospitals, four seriously hurt.

Catcalls Heard As Spanish Chief Arrives in Paris

Paris, July 12.—(AP)—Bows and exclamations within the railway terminals and hoots, catcalls and hostile cries outside the building greeted the Spanish chief, General Primo de Rivera, as he arrived in Paris tonight.

Primo de Rivera, the Spanish premier and erstwhile dictator, is visiting the French capital to participate in the celebrations attending on the French national holiday, Bastille day, July 14.

Large forces of police had assembled in the precincts of the station in the expectation of some such outburst, and it was promptly suppressed; a dozen of the most tempestuous manifestations were taken to the police station, and General Primo de Rivera was able to leave in peace for the Spanish embassy.

The general, wearing a dark gray business suit and straw hat, stepped nimbly from the train; he was warmly greeted by Premier Briand, Marshal Petain, General Guillaumat, minister of war; General Simon and members of the Moroccan conference, the Spanish embassy staff and a large detachment from the Spanish colony.

Owing to the antagonism of socialists and others against the reception of the Spanish premier by the government of the French republic, extraordinary precautions have been taken by the police to protect the visitor, and all along the route from Madrid he was guarded by his own officials as well as French secret service men.

The socialist federation of the Seine department, in congress today, unanimously voted disapproval of the official reception by France of Premier Primo de Rivera and Muni Youssef, sultan of Morocco.

SHOCKS CONTINUE TO SHAKE MALAY FOLLOWING QUAKE

Amsterdam, Holland, July 12.—(AP)—Further severe earthquakes in the Malay Archipelago were recorded Saturday, say advices from Batavia. The shocks were particularly severe in Padang-Pandjeng, scene of recent disastrous quakes, on the Island of Ternate in the Molucca group.

A. C. L. TO FIGHT FEDERAL DECISION IN TAMPA CASE

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 12.—(AP)—An appeal from the decree of United States District Judge Charles I. Dawson, of Louisville, awarding the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky an injunction restraining it from charging interstate commerce commission rates on petroleum products shipments from Tampa and Jacksonville to other Florida points and awarding the oil company a judgment for $63,000 with interest as overcharges on shipments, was filed in the United States circuit court of appeals here today by the Atlantic Coast Line railroad.

The record said it had been the practice of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana to supply petroleum products to customers in Florida from storage plants at Port Tampa, Tampa and Jacksonville, its supplies of petroleum products being purchased by the Kentucky company from Standard Oil companies of Louisiana and New Jersey. These companies made deliveries to storage stations by tank steamers.

Roomers Terrorized As Armed Man Walks Down Halls of Club

C. R. Epling, 30-year-old iron worker, terrorized roomers in the Majestic club at an early hour Monday morning when he stalked the halls armed with a big and ugly automatic pistol.

A riot call to police station brought Capt. Officers Hughes and Dodd, who put a stop to Epling's fun by putting him in jail. They made a report to this effect: About 2 o'clock Monday morning, number of roomers found themselves dashing wildly about the club seeking shelter, while Epling stepped high and wide, brandishing a gun. After disporting himself thusly for the better part of an hour, he went out on the porch and went to sleep. It was then that officers found him. Awakened by the flashlight in the hands of Officer Dodd, Epling made an attempt to recover his weapon which was on the floor. The two officers after a struggle, succeeded in subduing an. carrying him to police headquarters.

He is being held under a blanket charge of suspicion while authorities investigate his past record. If nothing more than Monday morning's offense is found against him, he will be tried on charges of being drunk and carrying a weapon.

DR. MOON CANDIDATE FOR ALDERMAN AGAIN

Dr. P. L. Moon, alderman from the second ward, Monday night definitely took the field for reelection when he made formal announcement to succeed himself. He probably will not have opposition, his friends declared.

Dr. Moon was chairman of the sanitary committee of council for two years, chairman of the library committee for three years, a member of the board of health for five years before entering council, and has served on some of the most important committees of general council, including water, police board, claims, finance, auditorium and the public improvement. Dr. Moon has been largely instrumental in obtaining many public improvements for his ward, such as white way stretches and the Fulton county high school, which is now housed in a new $500,000 building.

In announcing his candidacy for reelection, Dr. Moon invited "a careful review of my record," and stated that the post during the next term will carry with it an added responsibility on account of the expenditure of funds from the $5,000,000 bond issue.

"Mystery Woman" Plans To Testify In M'Pherson Case

Los Angeles, July 12.—(AP)—Interest in the case of Aimee Semple McPherson centered today on the "mystery woman" witness which District Attorney Asa Keyes has indicated he will produce when the Los Angeles grand jury reconvenes tomorrow to continue its investigation of the asserted kidnapping of the Angelus temple evangelist.

The new witness is said to be a former confidential secretary to Mrs. McPherson who recently resigned. The nature of the woman's testimony is being closely guarded by the district attorney's office, but attaches intimates that it would prove startling.

FLORIDA TO SPEND MILLIONS ON ROADS

Tallahassee, Fla., July 12.—(AP)—Approximately $14,000,000 is to be expended by the state road department in work now under construction, Dr. F. W. Hathaway, chairman, advised Governor Martin today.

Dr. Hathaway's communication was in reply to one from the governor, sent to all members of the road department, in which the executive requested the letting of more highway contracts to absorb the seven-and-a-half million in the state treasury for road building.

On July 21, Dr. Hathaway said, lettings of additional contracts will be made for another $2,000,000 worth of highway work.

The embargo, the road department chairman stated, kept down expenditures from August, 1925, to the latter part of March, 1926. Now, however, he added, disbursement of the highway fund was increasing rapidly each month.

"The total disbursements for the month of June when all estimates and bills shall have been paid," Dr. Hathaway wrote, "will amount to $1,250,000, whereas the expenditures for the months from August to March averaged a little more than $500,000. This is a large measure of the why there is an accumulation in the state treasury."

Dr. Hathaway predicted that by the first of 1927 the road department will have not only exhausted the money now in the treasury, but would be drawing heavily on the gasoline tax.

MITCHELL AND STEELE IN SCHOOL BOARD RACE

Two candidates, from the ninth and twelfth wards, respectively, announced Monday their candidacies for the board of education subject to the city democratic primary on September 22. These are the first announcements to fill four vacancies on the board.

R. M. Mitchell, Jr., of 54 Briarcliff road, entered the lists from the ninth ward in opposition to J. Oscar Mills, who is secretary of the South-eastern Fair association. Mr. Mills has not made known his intention regarding a second race.

Mr. Mitchell is well-known in the ninth ward, where he has been a resident for the past nine years, and has taken keen interest in civic and political affairs. He is a member of the Druid Hills Baptist church and is an active member of the Men's Bible class. He also is a member of Kirkwood lodge Masons.

"The best schools are none too good for Atlanta children," Mr. Steele said in outlining his platform. "I also believe in strict economy in expending public funds."

Jack Harris, of the sixth ward, Monday qualified for the post of councilman from the sixth in opposition to Harry Roberts, incumbent.

VIRGINIA ANNE PERRY, Two-year-old mascot of Grady hospital, on her second birthday.

pital, she is in Florida with her brother, J. Roy Perry. A big box of birthday presents from Steve Johnson, superintendent of the hospital, was sent to Virginia for the second anniversary of her birth.

The child was born 15 minutes after the death of her mother at Grady. Her father gave her into the care of Mr. Johnson and Virginia immediately became the most popular young lady in the vicinity of the hospital. She was officially recognized and installed as mascot and while she is not serving actively, still holds the title.

Virginia's brother took her away to Florida about a year ago to live, after adopting her. Mr. Johnson said to this only because he thought the hospital atmosphere would have an ill effect on the child's health and because of the natural claim of the brother.

The picture which accompanies this story was taken on the date of Virginia's birthday and was sent by Mr. Perry to Mr. Johnson and her other friends at the hospital.

CITY WINS SUIT FOR GEORGIA LAND

In a decision handed down Monday morning by Circuit Judge Oscar Yarnall at Chattanooga, the city of Chattanooga won its litigation with the state of Georgia involving the condemnation of state owned property by the city for the extension of Broad and Eleventh streets, according to a message received by Assistant Attorney General T. E. Gross.

Attorney General George M. Naper is in Denver, Colo., but was notified of the decision by telegram. Mr. Gross said the state would file an application for a rehearing in the case next Monday. Pending the filing of this petition Judge Yarnall allowed a supersedeas restraining the city of Chattanooga from opening the streets to remain operative.

The state of Georgia contended that the city of Chattanooga would have to obtain legislative sanction of its ordinances opening the new streets before property devoted to a public use could be changed to another public use. The city of Chattanooga contended that it had the right to go ahead and open the streets and pay the state of Georgia damages fixed by a jury of view.

Soon after the city passed its ordinances officials of Chattanooga directed that buildings on state of Georgia property be torn down to make room for the extension of Broad and Eleventh streets. The tearing down was halted by a supersedeas granted by the state court of appeals of Tennessee.

Under the terms of the latest decision the city will be able to complete the street extensions and pay the state of Georgia damages unless a rehearing is granted and a new decision rendered.

Coolidge Economy Program Collapses as Appropriations For Year Are Increased

Chairman Warren of Senate Declares Increased Appropriations Are Absolutely Necessary.

Washington, July 12.—Pressure of the Coolidge administration for economy appears to have reached rock bottom so far as government appropriations are concerned and the trend again is upward.

This was forecast some time ago by President Coolidge, who anticipated that the growth of the country would require gradually increasing federal expenditures regardless of pressure for economy.

This forecast was confirmed today by official compilations of appropriations made in the session of congress just ended.

Appropriations for the current fiscal year total $2,733,000,000, more than those for last year, not including postoffice appropriations which were reimbursed by postal revenues.

They show total appropriations for the current year of $4,460,377,454.15. This is a cut of $6,802,000 under the budget estimates presented by President Coolidge.

The increase of $273,000,000 for 1927 over 1926 is nothing more or less than was expected, said Chairman Warren, of the senate appropriations committee.

"At the close of the second session of the 68th congress, I called attention to what I believed to be a fact—that reductions in appropriations could not reasonably be looked forward to in the very near future, and that I believed we were then on a genuine peace basis, good times and prosperity are immediately reflected in a demand for increased as well as new governmental functions."

"We have reached a point where increased expenditures are absolutely necessary. It is not economy or sound business sense to permit our barracks and quarters and other government buildings to decay for want of minor repairs and paint. It is not economy to employ people at an insufficient wage. It is not economy to house our army in tents. The time comes for government as well as individuals to expend their money for their own protection and welfare, not extravagantly, but rationally and with a due regard for the future."

Congressman Madden, chairman of the house ways and means committee, estimated that there will be a probable surplus of $185,000,000 on June 30, 1927, when the current appropriations expire. But even so, he refrained from predictions regarding further tax reduction.

"The program of constructive economy will be continued but it is too early to venture any predictions on the matter of future tax reductions. The status of government finances must unmistakably indicate that such a reduction can be made without impairment of the necessary revenue to run the government before it is undertaken."

Speaking for the democrats, Representative Byrns, of Tennessee, ranking minority member of the house ways and means committee, scouted the administration's economy claims, claiming that during the last three years republicans have made double the appropriations of the democrats in the three years just preceding the war.

"The republican party by its fraudulent claims of rigid economy, by the special privileges it has granted to the favored few at the expense of the common people, and by its failure to bring relief to the basic industry of our country, has betrayed the American people," Byrns said.

REPORT OF ARMS PARLEY COLLAPSE DENIED BY U.S.

Washington, July 12.—(AP) The state department today made formal denial of a widely published report that Secretary Kellogg had advised President Coolidge that so far as the United States and Great Britain are concerned the preparatory arms conference in Geneva has collapsed.

"The report of state declared that no report of this nature had been received from the American delegates at Geneva," the report said, "nor has he sent to the president any report dealing with this report."

ITALIAN PREMIER'S BROTHER SEEKING TO FIGHT DUEL

Rome, July 12.—Arnaldo Mussolini, brother of the premier of Italy and editor of the newspaper Popolo d'Italia, has challenged General Roberto Caviglioglio, a leader of the constitutional opposition, to a duel.

The challenge followed publication of an article in the Popolo d'Italia calling Benicigno a coward after the newspaper had published a document involving him in a plot against the life of the premier.

Benicigno wrote a letter to Arnaldo Mussolini which the premier's brother regarded as disparaging in tone, and the demand for satisfaction came immediately.

PERSONS HURT IN SUBWAY CRASH

New York, July 12.—The most serious of the accidents which have befallen subway trains of the Interborough Rapid Transit company since the company's motor men went on strike a week ago occurred tonight when 10 persons were injured, one seriously, in the crash of a train against a terminal bumper at Two Hundred and Forty-second street.

The motor man, said to be a green strikebreaker, was arrested on a charge of criminal negligence. He claimed to have stepped his train properly, only to have been pushed into the bumper by a train behind.

Mrs. Alice Harvey, a woman passenger, received a crushed nose and a possible skull fracture. Three other women and six men were less seriously injured and many were trampled as scores of passengers made a frantic rush for the doors.

The district attorney of the Bronx began an immediate investigation. Meanwhile, the district attorney of New York county is similarly acting in connection with previous serious accidents, having charged the I. R. T. with violation of a statute in operating a train with a motor man who is not a member of the union.

The strike itself appears to be on the wane and I. R. T. officials claim it is broken. They say that 100 strikers returned to work Monday rather than be stricken from the company's rolls and that normal service will be resumed soon.

AMUNDSEN CREW HAILED BY THROG IN HOME LAND

Oso, July 12.—(AP) Captain Roald Amundsen and the Norwegian members of his expedition which successfully flew over the north pole in the dirigible Norge arrived at Bergen today.

Huge crowds turned out in the streets to welcome him. The mayor and various public bodies gathered at a banquet in honor of the explorers. The entire town was beflagged and festivities were held in various sections. The party will proceed to Oslo Tuesday.

Captain Amundsen told interviewers that since no land has been seen around the pole, the polar basin should be considered only as equivalent to international waters and that no nation could claim or annex the pole.

SURPRISE WEDDING Staged by Former Oregon Governor

Norfolk, Va., July 12.—(AP) Procuring a marriage license in the city of Norfolk, the bridegroom, without anyone being aware of his identity, George Earle Chamberlain, former governor of Oregon and later United States senator, was quietly married here today to Mrs. Carolyn B. Shelton.

The groom gave his age as 72 and his bride her age as 48. Both were natives of Washington, where he resides in Washington, Senator Chamberlain at the Wardman Park hotel.

Shortly after obtaining the license, the bride and groom were married by the Rev. W. H. T. Squires, pastor of the Knox Presbyterian church. They will spend a week at Virginia Beach before returning to Washington.

Senator Chamberlain, a democrat, has had a distinguished public career. A native of Mississippi, he was graduated from Washington and Leo in 1876. He was elected governor of Oregon in 1903, and was reelected a second time, but resigned to accept a seat in the United States senate. He was reelected senator in 1915 and served until 1921. He is perhaps best known as author of the National Defense bill of 1915. He also was a member of the United States shipping board for the 1921-25 term.

JAIL TERM ENDED, CHICAGO SHERIFF RETURNS TO WORK

Chicago, July 12.—Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman completed his 30-day sentence in the DuPage county jail at Wheaton and returned to Chicago to resume active leadership of law enforcement in Cook county.

Hoffman was welcomed back to his office like a conquering hero. Flowers in large bunches adorned his desk and employees and fellow officials flocked to his office to shake hands with him. The sheriff's term at Wheaton was imposed for contempt of federal court in a case involving a plot against the life of the premier.

Benicigno wrote a letter to Arnaldo Mussolini which the premier's brother regarded as disparaging in tone, and the demand for satisfaction came immediately.

Boris's Bachelor King TOO BUSY TO GET MARRIED

New York, July 12.—(AP) Boris's young bachelor king, Boris, who has undertaken a trip to Geneva, as some say, on a matrimonial errand, only recently said he was too busy helping to restore his country to bother about looking for a wife.

The 32-year-old sovereign who is affectionately called "our foster son" by the old women peasants of Bulgaria, recently responded to a stiff correspondent for the Associated Press near the royal palace outside of Sofia.

Instead of appearing in regal splendor, the king was mounted on one of his farms. Dismissing from the machine, he greeted the correspondent who had been laughing heartily and said several years before. Discussing a possible visit of King Boris to the United States, the correspondent said, "Perhaps when you go to the United States, you will marry an American girl. That will establish a real family bond between the two countries."

The king laughed heartily and said: "I told you once before that my throne at present is not strong enough to support two heads. Also it is the custom in Bulgaria for the son of a king to marry a girl of his own country. I am now traveling with my family to get his sisters married off first before he can marry himself. It is true I have got one of my sisters married but now I must look around for a husband for the second. Then

I shall be free to look around for a fair companion for my own household."

King Boris, who has never been crowned and will not think of putting the state to the expense of a coronation, added: "Perhaps when I do get married, the queen and I will have a coronation together but it will be the simplest kind of an affair, and devoid of expense."

"It is true," the correspondent asked, "that you wish to utilize your marriage as a political asset for furthering the interests of Bulgaria with a foreign country?"

"Well, of course," the king responded, "every head of a state wishes to do that. But the fact is I am at present far too busy helping restore our country to bother about looking for a wife. Poor Mr. Stambouloff (former prime minister, who was killed three years ago), always used to say he would find me a rich American wife, but I am not really looking for riches. Character counts far more than money."

"Don't you find it lonely living by yourself?" the correspondent asked.

"No," replied the king. "I am now traveling with my family to get his sisters married off first before he can marry himself. It is true I have got one of my sisters married but now I must look around for a husband for the second. Then

I shall be free to look around for a fair companion for my own household."

Devastated Arsenal Area Looted by Thieves' Band

By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.
Dover, N. J., July 12.—Looting is rampant in the big devastated area of New Jersey surrounding the still blazing ruins of the Lake Denmark naval ammunition depot and the section of the army arsenal at Picatinny where the disaster is now growing, according to reports reaching emergency military headquarters just after dawn, soon after right night tonight. This was despite strongly reinforced rings of marines about the stricken depot and the section of the arsenal, but military took charge late Saturday night.

Report was made to Captain Robert Hamilton, Dover, N. J., that the explosion had attracted a band of thieves from New York. Fearful of another explosion, more than 300 homes near Picatinny had been abandoned. During last night 30 of these places were ransacked. An extra detail of state police under Lieutenant Daniel Rogers is now at the scene. Warnings were issued early tonight that looters would be shot on sight.

Thieves, it appears, have not been deterred by the recurring explosions and the menace of flying shell fragments in the territory.

Through the army reservation the night and today searched the shattered quarters of the officers for what loot might be found.

The boy was born and reared in Atlanta, according to his brother, Herbert Corrie, and before going to Louisiana he had been in the employ of the Southern Railway for seven years.

He lived here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Corrie, of 451 Capitol avenue.

Marines Died Facing Fire, Wilbur's Inspection Shows

Positions of bodies prove death in duty.
Dover, N. J., July 12.—Out of a blast of tons of TNT that wrecked buildings miles away the record of the marines emerged today without a blemish.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, coming out of the shell-ploughed grounds of the naval arsenal at Lake Denmark, N. J., with explosions of shells in blasted magazines punctuating his sentences, today told the story of how the marines died facing the danger instead of away from it.

"The position of the body of every man found proved that he died facing the danger," he said.

Two hundred marines from Quantico, Va., were doing guard duty at the arsenal when the explosion occurred.

"The situation is still dangerous," Secretary Wilbur said.

Commenting on a report that officers at the arsenal had complained to him of the condition of the ammunition depot, Secretary Wilbur said:

"That is untrue. I received no complaint of the arsenal being in a dangerous condition. I know that every precaution was taken to avoid such disasters. The navy had the advice of the best experts in the conditions here, as regards lightning and other dangers."

During his inspection, Secretary Wilbur went into the danger zone several times, once penetrating the devastated area to the point of entering the arsenal.

Most prosperous nation in Europe," that the settlement amounts to little less than 50 cents on the dollar of France's debt, and that "the trouble with France is that they refuse to pay taxes." Senator Borah said that France is paying more than would be required to meet American debt installments to break a pledge to give Syrians their independence.
